

Earth & Miral

Miral was a bright and curious kid who wanted to learn more about planet Earth. She was fascinated by the blue oceans, the green forests, and the vast deserts. Miral wanted to learn how she could help protect the Earth.

Miral learned that one of the best ways to help protect the Earth was to reduce her own carbon footprint. She started by turning off lights when she wasn't using them, recycling paper and plastic, and using reusable bags when she went shopping. Miral also planted a garden and taught her friends about the importance of taking care of the Earth. With Miral's help, the Earth was safe and healthy for everyone.
